Laptop charger should also travel with your student if their computer is not able to hold a full charge for at least three hours.

Access to printer at home (b&w or colored)

Steady supply of loose leaf paper (three-hole punched)

Steady supply of graphing paper (Please make this notebook size, students will store work in their binder for math)

Steady supply of pencils and/or erasable pens

Steady supply of blue pens

Ruler that includes inches and centimeters (combo ruler)

Scissors

Protractor

Compass

Two blue spiral notebooks - math

Regular simple calculator

Three ring-binders (size 1.5-2 inches) - one will be for science, one will be for math, and the third will be for Latin

Purple folder - double pocket for Latin

Red folder - double pocket for ELA & social studies

Colored pencils

A few glue sticks

One or two highlighters (any color)

Post-it notes (3"x3")

One pack of anti-bacterial wipes such as Wet Ones

Two boxes of Kleenex tissues

- Please make sure your student has a consistent working space at home for them to be productive and to store supplies.
- If you haven't already, please open a Gmail account for your student that you have full access to at all times. Your student's Gmail user account should be clearly identifiable and be school appropriate in title. If you have any questions or concerns about this, please do not hesitate to contact me at michelle@camelotacademy.org. Middle Grades is mainly using Google Classroom to deliver class material in Humanities and science.

- Other sources that your student will be accessing online this school year are listed below. Please take a moment to open an account for your student for each of the following websites:

→ Quizlet This is a free online learning tool that we use to create lesson reviews for students to access at any time. It is accessible from any computer, tablet, or cell phone with access to the web.

→ Students should have access to SchoolNotes website readily on their device. This is Ms. Michelle's primary avenue of parent communication of your student's assignments and long-term projects. Please peruse the link with your student at your leisure.
